VILMA D. EDA, CESO V
School Division Superintendent
Vigan City

Dear Ma'am,

Greetings!

In support to the City Government of Vigan Crop Diversification and Food Security Program, the City Agriculture Office will conduct a Vegetable Production Training to 21 schools within the City to enhance knowledge and skills in establishing and maintaining productive school gardens.

In this regard, we are pleased to invite two (2) participants from each school, preferably the teachers or personnel in charge of the School-in-a-Garden Program to attend the training on June 19, 2026, 8:30 A.M at the Agriculture Warehouse, Nagsangalan, Vigan City.

Topics to be discussed include vegetable production techniques, crop diversification, garden management, and sustainable food production practices.

As part of the program, assorted vegetable seeds will be distributed to participating schools after the training to support the establishment and enhancement of school gardens and contribute to local food security initiatives.

Should you have any inquiries regarding this activity, please feel free to contact Eric John Teodosio and Pamela Catura at Contact No. 0906 8794 211 and 0993 764 5086 for assistance and further information.

We look forward to your school's participation and continued support in promoting food security.

Thank you and God bless.

Respectfully yours,

LITO A. FORNEAS
City Agriculturist
